

Leslie George, Graduate Gemologist, GIA

“Jewelry is personal—it means different things to different people. But, whether you want to insure your jewelry in order to wear it; distribute your jewelry equally among your heirs; buy jewelry or sell it – in order to do it wisely –you must know its value.”

Importance of a Good Appraiser with Proper Qualifications

Did you know one does not need a license to appraise jewelry? It is up to consumers to look into the qualifications and experience of their appraiser. Your insurance coverage may only be as good as the quality of the written appraisal report, and the qualifications of the appraiser. In order to perform a competent and comprehensive appraisal, it is mandatory to have the right tools, knowledge and experience.

Our Qualifications

- Graduate Gemologist of the Gemological Institute of America.
- Fully equipped Gemological Laboratory -- as required by the American Gem Society.
- Master Diamond stones for color grading that have been accepted by the GIA and AGS.
- Years of experience in the jewelry and appraisal industry.
- Extensive jewelry and gem research library, which is constantly being expanded and upgraded.

- Access to a large industry network-- that enables us to get as much information as possible on unusual pieces.
- Continuing education through industry courses, seminars and trade shows.
- Member of: GIA Alumni Association; National Association of Jewelry Appraisers; American Society of Jewelry Historians

Services We Offer

- Appraisals by Appointment. Our expertise includes contemporary, estate, and antique jewelry, diamonds and colored gemstones.
- Insurance Appraisals. Exacting documentation and digital photographs to make sure you are adequately covered.
- Estate Appraisals.
- Equitable Distribution Appraisals. Know the value so distribution can be fair.
- Consultation Services for Buying or Selling Diamonds, Colored Gemstones, and New or Period Jewelry. Understand value before you buy or sell.
- New or Potential Purchase Verification Appraisals.
- Assistance in Brokering Jewelry and Gemstones.
- Diamond and Colored Gemstone Grading.
- Liquidation of Large Collections.

Your Treasured Items Handled with the Utmost Care

New England Gem Lab provides an environment in which to share information. We will help you understand your jewelry and the jewelry market in a professional, honest, forthright manner. We want to answer your questions, and be sure that whatever your jewelry needs are – they are covered.

Visit our Website:
www.negemlab.com

Massachusetts
Independent Professional
Jewelry Appraiser

Call for an appointment
617.340.6383
leslie@negemlab.com
www.negemlab.com

Leslie George & Cindy Konney
New England Gem Lab
Massachusetts & Connecticut

New England
Gemological Laboratory
&
Appraisal Services, LLC

Leslie S. George
Graduate Gemologist, GIA
Massachusetts Independent Jewelry Appraiser

93 Union Street Suite 303D
Newton Center, Massachusetts 02459
Phone/Fax: 617.340.6383

leslie@negemlab.com
www.negemlab.com

*Offices in Newton Center, Massachusetts
&
Old Lyme, Connecticut*